Hi!

Monday: I go to school! First I have Mustang Minutes. Then I attend periods 1, 3, and 5 for 90 minutes each. Even though I'm in the building, I'm still working on and submitting all of my assignments through Google Classroom. My teachers are with me though, getting to know me and helping me out!

Tuesday: I go to school again! First I have Mustang Minutes. Then, I attend periods 2, 4, and 6 for 90 minutes each. As I work on assignments in Google Classroom, my teachers use aggressive monitoring to give feedback and they model what quality work looks like. Thanks guys! I appreciate the support!

Wednesday: My in-person learning for the week is done! But...I still have work to do. My classes are still on a block schedule. So, from home, I log into my Mustang Minutes - and then my periods 1, 3, and 5. I have about 90 minutes of work for each. Brain breaks help!

Thursday: I'm still at home! Now I am logging into my Mustang Minutes, followed by periods 2, 4, and 6 for 90 min. It's been a weird day...so I don't log into these classes until late in the evening. Luckily, that's completely ok! I don't have to be online at the same time as "class" while learning from home.

Friday: Chillin' like a villain on my couch! First, I log into Mustang Minutes. Then I go into periods 1-6 on Google Classroom for about 45 minutes each. On Fridays, I know that I am going to get to revise an assignment in each class to show how I've improved. This is my day to apply what I've learned!

I'm Jemisin, and I'm a Group A student. Here's my week:

Hi! I'm Sam! I'm in the same classes as Jemisin, but I'm a Group B student!

During the week - I am working on the exact same assignments as her - on the exact same days!

The only difference is, I get in-person support from my teachers on Wednesday and Thursday, not on Monday and Tuesday.

Hi! I'm Jack! I'm in the same classes as Jemisin and Sam, but I'm a fully remote student.

During the week - I am working on the exact same assignments as they are - on the exact same days!

The only difference is, I never get in-person support from my teacher. I connect with my teacher through Google Meets, though!!
